AGENDA

I DRAFT OF NEW CRITERIA FOR "BEADSTRINGING USING ONLY COMMERCIALLY MANUFACTURED BEADS" IN VERIFYING WHETHER BEADSTRUNG ITEMS USING ONLY COMMERCIALLY MANUFACTURED BEADS ARE PREDOMINANTLY CREATED OR SIGNIFICANTLY ALTERED BY THE STREET ARTIST, AS PER DEFINITION OF "HAND-CRAFTED ITEM" IN SECTION 2401, ORDINANCE 41-83 (STREET ARTIST ORDINANCE) (this item requested by Street Artists Program Committee, 2/9/94)

NOTE: Current criteria for "BEADSTRINGING, USING ONLY COMMERCIALLY MANUFACTURED BEADS", adopted by the Art Commission on 10/4/93, is as follows: "The Advisory Committee shall verify whether the beadcraft item's commercially manufactured bead components are significantly or predominantly altered in form by the item's design arrangement. No more than 15% of an artist's total displayed beadcraft may be of items comprised entirely of the same type of bead. All commercially manufactured pendants are not allowed unless approved as an integral part of the item's design arrangement. At least two dozen finished samples of each type of beadcraft jewelry (bracelets, necklaces, earrings) are required to be submitted for certification."

MEMBERS PRESENT: Josie Grant, Wendy McPhee, Matt Porkola, Susan Tibbon

STAFF PRESENT: Howard Lazar, Toni Worthy (Butt)

OTHER DEPT. STAFF: David Greenburg, Deputy City Attorney, Julie Cheung

MEETING CONVENED AT 10:10 A.M.

SPEAKERS:

R. STEPHEN GOLDSTEIN, ATTORNEY

meeting opened w/ welcome and outline of informal format of meeting.

Larry Rosenbloom requested seperation of language and ensuing advisory committee action vis-a-vis significant alteration and whether artist has made said items.

Stephen Goldstein read and explained his writing of a Street artist ordinance. (See exhibit (A)).

Sharon Mac Dougall reiterated that she and other artists felt that existing criteria was confusing. She suggested voluntary compliance w/ "15% rule" (See Ex. B)

Virginia Burns spoke about a possible minimum # of beads per item. She spoke also about the idea of percentages vis-a-vis the existing "15% rule". See exhibit (B) abby Ellis spoke in favor of the existing "15% rule" see exhibit (B). She later ammended her desire for a "25% rule".

John Bass seconded Ms. Ellis' issue & spoke
Raymond Jones voiced opposition to the "15% rule". see exhibit (B)

Willy Cheng seconded Mr. Jones' position and spoke of the need for asian dialect translation.
Howard Lazar offered the services of Julie Cheung as asian dialect interpretor. He also clarified "15% rule" in context of total display and "look" of exhibited work. See exhibit (B).
John Ammann requested clarification of "15% rule" vis-a-vis total # of pieces displayed.

Matt Porkola read existing beadcraft criteria. He pointed out, that new proposed criteria (see exhibit A) is weaker than existing criteria. eg. lack of "three bead component" see existing criteria.

Howard Lazar clarified the intent of desire for new bead criteria vis-a-vis artist input. He also noted the unique nature of bead craft is that most if not all of the beaded items are fabricated of non-artist

Josie Grant spoke about fiscal neccessity of simple "one bead" type of beads. She also suggested a "signiture" bead indicating stringing by artist. She also explained the need for tight criteria in that what is submitted and what is sold is often substantially different.

Matt Porkola shared broad and specific definition of craft. (eg. substantial hand work by artist.)

Matt also explored the issue of whether mere assembly satisfies of the definition (eg. substantial hand work and/or alteration.). He pointed out that aesthetic design analysis is always kept to a minimum.

Stephen Goldstein clarified the unacceptability of arbitrary aesthetic judgement, w/ a specific caveat against Howard Lazar agreed w/ Mr. Goldstein but reitterated the absolute need for strict artist manufacture of item(s).

Josie Grant requested more detailed criteria that address seperate items (e.g. earings, necklaces, bracelets etc.)

Sharon MacDougall showed a necklace + earring that she felt showed certain inherent fabrication elements that marked it as a hand made item.

Dave Greenburg spoke about the legality of incorporating a design and/or aesthetic element. He also pointed out that developing said criteria has some arbitrary nature to it.

Howard Lazar suggested that St. artist items not replicate those commercially sold.

Mr. Bass questioned the ethicacy and/or legality of Matt Peskola chairing the meeting and sharing input.

Mr. Lazar clarified that committee members chairing and sharing input was at the desire of the art commission.

Susan Tibbon requested St. artists input __ in determining whether work is indeed made by St. artists. She also requested St. artist input in determining future of program should items sold continue to mirror those sold in adjacent stores.

Tad Sky expressed that the only mission of the Committee should be to determine whether item was made by SS. artist.

Mr. Bass voiced desire for enforcement as well as his impression that bead criteria was and is unduly harsh. He request reinstitution of art inspector as well as specific language vis-a-vis stringing material. Mr. Bass felt hand knotting was not an acceptable criteria.

S. Tibbon asked whether hand knotting might be an acceptable criteria.

Matt Pokola clarified that there is at present no budget for an inspector. He asked artists to consider a raising of fees to cover the cost of an inspector.
Ms. Venage requested clarification of "15% rule" (see exhibit B) She suggested cancelation of - certification to sell on the part of those artists who violate criteria.

Virginia Burris expressed her disatisfaction w/ screenings in that screenings are subjective. She also felt that Committee was arbitrary and racist.

Matt Porkola strongly objected to Ms. Burris and her unfounded insinuations.

Howard Lazar further clarified that personnel matters were not on the agenda and further, not germain to the issue at hand. Howard Lazar suggested ammendments to Mr. Goldstein's criteria language:

1. addition of "signiture bead"
2. seperate language for items where stringing material is exposed. (eg. certain # of beads.)
3. Where one bead is predominate element, 1/3 the length of stringing material on either side shall be covered w/ beads.

Josie Grant reitterated the inherent nature of design in a craft program as well as the exemplary qualifications of the committee.

Raymond Jones asked for written clarification of new criteria.

Matt Porkola suggested a 15-20 break at 12:00 noon.

The meeting resumed at 12:40 P.M.

Goldstein, attorney (exhibit C)
Would like
Provided further, that the advisory committee, may require the artist ~~would~~ provide as ....
1) not entirely same bead in a necklace
2) signature bead
3) if string exposed: single vertical pendant contain 5 or more beads

see also Goldstein's exhibit A 1)

4) necklaces and bracelets ~~or~~ w/out pendant 1/3 comprised of string beads

5) keep 3-component earring rule (exclusive 3 components of finding)

Lazar, Howard

Request attorney Goldstein to type up.

Goldstein
Will write up everything he outlined, in a working draft and send out copies.

Matt Porkola

RE-EXAMINATION OF WARES: RICCARDO AMODEI (FOR THE PURPOSE OF FURTHER VERIFYING WHETHER ARTIST'S WARES ARE OF THE ARTIST'S OWN CREATION).

MINUTES

MEMBERS PRESENT:

WENDY MCPHEE
JOBIE GRANT
MARSHA WEISBROT 2:30pm
MATT PORKOLA

DOCUMENTS DEPT.
JUN 09 1995
SAN FRANCISCO
PUBLIC LIBRARY

Meeting open with Howard's introduction of why meeting was called regarding: belts were not hand stamped by Ricardo, but actually rolled belts.

Def: Rolled belt: design done by a machine.

Ricardo pulled out 3 1/2 finished belts ~~of~~ two of which matched belts in question in photograph. Ricardo claimed he did it by a method around for over a hundred years- He pulled out tool, hammer and anvil-like surface on which to hammer. He pulled out stamps which he ~~hand~~ hand-made ~~ea~~ from nuts and bolts. He learned how to make his own tools from his grandfather who made books years ago.

As to allegation that his designs go all the way to the end of belt - He claimed that is his style of doing a belt- He claimed this with much pride - the pride of someone who likes to take care of details.

Next Ricardo demonstrated the attachment of a belt piece to the buckle so that it matched the belts design. He pulled out tools that matched each of the belts on the table. All the tools were well worn at the hammer end of the tools.

Ricardo also claimed that Sutter Leather (a supplier who has a catalogue with matching designs) got designs for their belts from him. His experience in this craft is 30 years.

The people* present on Ricardos behalf claimed they felt it was unfair that Ricardo who has been in the program so long as well as themselves - have been harassed by Virginia (& Ray) for only the reason of competition.

Ray replied to this by stating that their only concern is about illegal product that presents a competition.

(* Leather crafters present:
Ricardo: Robert Siu, Sandra Bleino, Maria Hillus, Kathy Hallinan). Ray Jones & Virginia Bains also present and were original filers of complaint

Virginia approached table with a magnifying glass to look at photos of his table?
Ricardo ~~ha~~ brought over ~~80~~ 90 tools for tooling leather that he owns. Some purchased tools, some hand created. He also pulled out a template to demonstrate one of the belts in question where a design looked like one offered by Sutler Leather.

After examining Ricardos belts and barrets the Committee felt more than reassured that everything was done by Ricardo - that his ability and capability more than equal the goods photographed on the table. Matt further stated he is one of the most skilled people in the program.

Meeting adjourned 345 pm
